

This is the third and final call for votes for the creation of the newsgroup misc.health.diabetes. A mass acknowledgement of valid votes received as of April 19th 14:00 GMT appears at the end of this posting. Please check the list to be sure that your vote has been registered. Read the instructions for voting carefully and follow them precisely to be certain that you place a proper vote.

Instructions for voting:

To place a vote FOR the creation of misc.health.diabetes, send an email message to yes@sun6850.nrl.navy.mil

To place a vote AGAINST creation of misc.health.diabetes, send an email message to no@sun6850.nrl.navy.mil

The contents of the message should contain the line "I vote for/against misc.health.diabetes as proposed". Email messages sent to the above addresses must constitute unambiguous and unconditional votes for/against newsgroup creation as proposed. Conditional votes will not be accepted. Only votes emailed to the above addresses will be counted; mailed replies to this posting will be returned. In the event that more than one vote is placed by an individual, only the most recent vote will be counted.

Voting will continue until 23:59 GMT, 29 Apr 93.

Votes will not be accepted after this date.

Any administrative inquiries pertaining to this CFV may be made by email to swkirch@sun6850.nrl.navy.mil

The proposed charter appears below.

Charter:

misc.health.diabetes

unmoderated

1. The purpose of misc.health.diabetes is to provide a forum for the discussion of issues pertaining to diabetes management, i.e.: diet, activities, medicine schedules, blood glucose control, exercise, medical breakthroughs, etc. This group addresses the issues of management of both Type I (insulin dependent) and Type II (non-insulin dependent) diabetes. Both technical discussions and general support discussions relevant to diabetes are welcome.

2. Postings to misc.health.diabetes are intended to be for discussion purposes only, and are in no way to be construed as medical advice. Diabetes is a serious medical condition requiring direct supervision by a primary health care physician.
