

I am looking for current sources for lists of all the home medical tests currently legally available.

I believe this trend of allowing tests at home where feasible, decreased medical costs by a factor of 10 or more and allows the patient some time and privacy to consider the best action from the results of such tests.

In fact I believe home medical tests and certain basic tests for serious diseases such as cancer, heart disease, should be offered free to the American public.

This could actually help to reduce national medical costs since many would have an earlier opportunity to know about and work toward recuperation or cure.
